

Challenges in Developing New Drugs: from the Bench to the Bedside

New medicines can change lives, but the development process is time consuming, expensive and fraught with failures. Hear an industry veteran's view on the challenges of drug development and how these challenges are managed in the industry.

Monday, October 21, 2019
7-8:30 pm

This event is presented by the Library's Biotechnology Learning Center.

Steve Hurst is a drug development project manager with 20+ years experience in the biotech and pharma industry. Steve received his PhD in Microbiology/Immunology from Northwestern University. He has authored 30+ scientific papers, book chapters and reviews.

San Mateo Public Library
55 West Third Avenue, San Mateo, CA 94402
650-522-7818 • www.smplibrary.org

 @SanMateoPublicLibrary  @smplibrary

