Creating Fun Play Environments to Enrich Communities

Labyrinth - Coordination and concentration undergo a tough test in the labyrinth and total attention is required to cope with the ingenious course.

Letter Game - A game that allows you to form your own words using the built-in letter rollers. Seven rollers with six letters on each roller create scope for many real and invented words.

Stove - Inclusive panel that provides opportunity for an imaginative play experience as children begin to actively engage with materials and support concrete learning. Food is ready fast on the durable stove where the pretend temperature is changed using the controls.

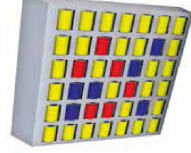

Sorting Game - Inclusive game. What a fun way to learn colors by matching and repetition. There are seven different figures - including cars, bells and dogs - and seven different colors to keep a track of.

Periscope - Inclusive component that allows for accessible play. You can use the periscope to look vertically and horizontally without being seen while maneuvering the mirror within, using the handle.

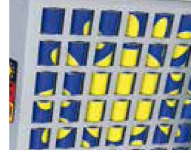

Noughts and Crosses - A classic noughts and crosses board that can also be used to play "Four-in-a-row". While the much younger group can certainly enjoy mixing the colors.

Car Dashboard - Just like a real car, the car dashboard is equipped with a movable steering wheel, gear stick and instrument panel. It's up to the user to decide what type of car it is and how fast it goes.

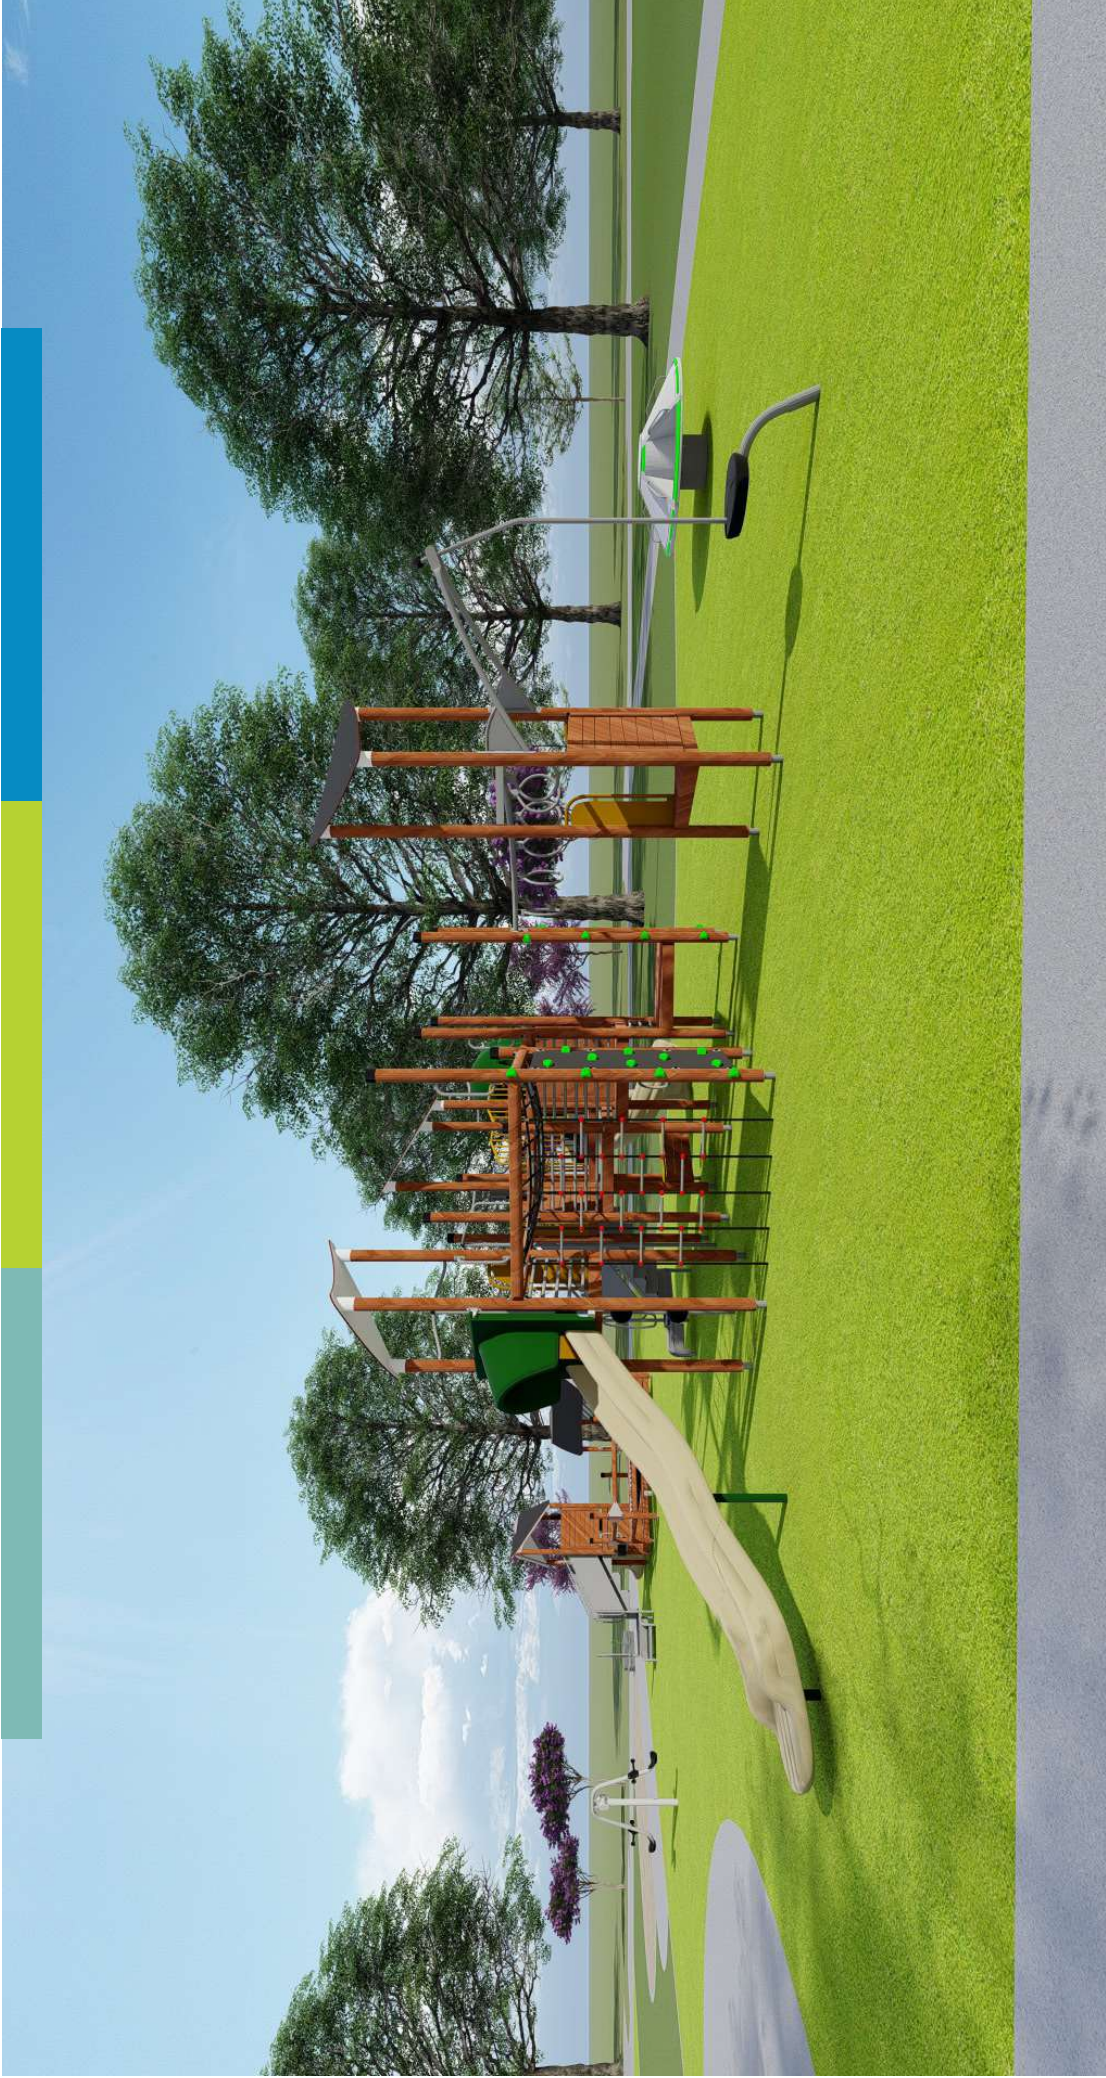

Picture Game - The picture game is a puzzle using rollers. Three different motifs are hidden on the rollers - a car, a dog and a sun with the objective to select the right combinations to reveal the content.

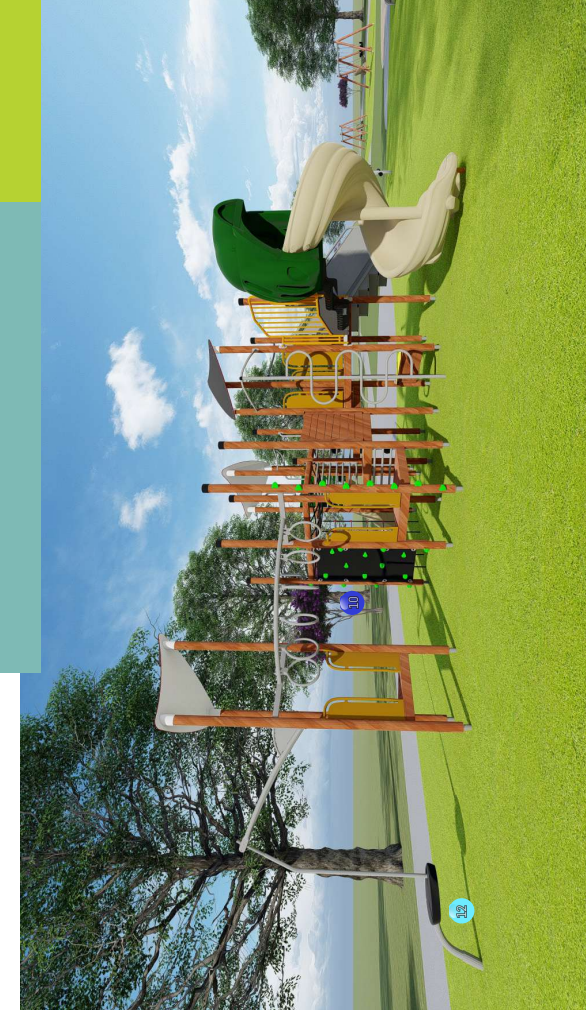

Swingo - A dynamic Play Element. A Sae-Saw that promotes Balancing, Co-ordination, Rocking and Spinning all in one. The Swingo is a Multi-Generational Play Component that encourages Social and Group Play.
